Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas Curtainment of Non-essential Loans

TO BANK DEPOSITORS.

Nothing is more vital to the winning of the war than credit.

The Government has to borrow immense sums temporarily, and the banks must stand ready at all times to lend the Government what it needs.

The ability of the banks to lend is not unlimited. It is just as necessary for them to conserve their lending power as it is to conserve coal, food, steel, and other commodities for which the war brings abnormal demands.

Desires, credit means the ability to command labor and materials, and nothing must stand in the way of the Government in its need for labor and materials.

If you are producing, manufacturing, or distributing things needed to prosecute the war or maintain the health and efficiency of the civilian population, you must be able to obtain the credit to which your needs and your standing entitle you.

But if you are to have the credit you need for these essential purposes, those whose purposes are not as essential must limit their demands for credit, and you, yourself, must ask for as little credit as possible for unnecessary purposes, for personal loans to carry securities, to build a home, to buy an automobile, or to do any of a hundred things which may be entirely proper in times of peace but may not be proper in war.

New loans will rarely be justified unless they are to aid directly in the prosecution of the war, and every bank has been asked by the government to request all its borrowers to keep their demands for credit down to the very minimum.

Patriotic citizens whether in business or not, will want to co-operate with this necessary Government policy.

The way for producers, manufacturers, and merchants to do their share and reduce their credit requirements is:

By not overbuying.

By carrying as small stocks as practicable.

By postponing new construction or expansion of their business.

By effecting business economies.

The way for individuals to do their share and reduce their loans is to study their personal expenses and effect economies.

If your bank asks you to reduce your loans or declines a loan as being non-essential, don't complain—do your bit, cheerfully accept the situation—you're helping win the war.

Borrowers whose loans are secured by Government bonds or other collateral, should remember that reduction of loans by selling collaterals is not helpful, since it usually merely shifts the burden to other shoulders.

Saving to reduce loans, is a patriotic service only second in importance to saving to buy Liberty Bonds and War Saving Stamps. Both help to transfer to the Government the ability to command the labor and materials of which President Wilson has said the Allies are in such desperate need. Both also help to accumulate for the saver a purchasing power, which he may need when the war is over.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas asks the banks in its district to send this message to their depositors, feeling sure that it will meet with their prompt co-operation.

The "Flu" is about over, the lid is taken off and we will have all our regular services Sunday and through the week as usual.

Teachers' meeting at 9:30. Sunday school at 10:00. Preaching services at 11:00 and 6:30. At the morning hour we shall consider our state mission work and begin our offering for same. Let us plan to do our best this time. Let all who can possibly do so give liberty bonds as these will be accepted the same as cash and so will the stamps and certificates. Let all others give as liberally as possible. The need is great and the call urgent. The program is to raise $200,000.00 during this campaign which amount is to care for several lines of denominational work. Be present and give your pledge Sunday and make the work of the finance committee as light as possible. Give all the children something for the offering.

The Union and Bounteous Band will meet at the usual hours.

We set 6:30 o'clock for the evening service. If some other hour would suit better, be prepared to say so Sunday night.

An error in the printing of the poem on the "Flu" last week destroyed the meaning of the fourth verse. It should have read:

"I really think it came across
The German River Rhine;
And maybe from the German boss
Who talks his powerful whine."
Come to both services and help us make Sunday a great day.

At The Methodist Church.

After being closed up by order of the City Council for two weeks, we will again take up our regular services at the Methodist Church next Sunday.

The Sunday school at 9:45, preaching at 11 in the morning and also preaching at 7 in the evening. This will be our last service before the meeting of the Annual Conference which convenes in Lubbock Nov. 5. Our last Quarterly Conference will be held at the church Friday Nov. 1 at 12:30 p. m. We hope to have a full representation at that Conference, at which time we will sum up the work of the year and plan for the coming year.

In spite of drought, sickness, and the exodus of many of our members, we feel that this has been a very profitable year and now with brightened prospects we are looking into the new year.

We are expecting a large crowd at both Sunday school and church Sunday, don't disappoint us, let everybody attend church.

First Victory Boy's Work.

"Say, I'm new to you, all right," a Western Union messenger boy whispered to one of the directors of the United War Work Campaign in the New York headquarters. The director's desk had only just been moved in and the work of the big drive had hardly begun.

"I'm onto your stunt," the boy went on as he swung a grimy fist over the desk. "You're going to give us fellows that ain't old enough to go to war a chance to earn up' give to back up a fighter an' help win the war. Listen: I'm in on this."

The crumpled $5 bill he dropped on the desk made him the first of "a million boys behind a million fighters" who are to be lined up as Victory Boys during the week of the drive.

There will be a division of Victory Girls, too, and every boy and every girl enrolled will have to earn every dollar he or she gives to the war work fund.

A petition is being circulated by word of mouth to ask the Comptroller of the State to order an election for $100,000 in road bonds. One thing is sure if Seneca county is to hold her own among the progressive counties of West Texas, we must maintain a system of good roads.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Members of The E. K. Mutual and Accident Association:

Allow me to call your attention to a condition that is likely to occur via, I as secretary and promoter have in the past carried members over one hundred dollars beyond constitutional provision as laid in article of the Emergency and when I do that it has to be my (E. K. Smith's) personal. Honest confession is gone for good, it has been written, I (E. K. Smith) live so I am forced to not carry members further. We now at the door of the greatest loss and the greatest association existence, so soon as the next legislature passes the vetoed bill by me, I will give a full and complete statement in the Signal as to the progressiveness that will meet your full approval. So I must be on the annual dues at this time all, or will be forced to forfeit delinquency. Yours truly,
E. K. SMITH, Sec.
